

February 20, 2008

Media Contact:

Sharla Montvel-Cohen
+1.671.988.0998 (mobile 1)
+1.671.482.7390 (mobile 2)
Lotus Media Services
(671) 477-5700 ext. 171

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SOJITZ CORP. JOINS AVIATION CONCEPTS TO SUPER-SERVE BUSINESS AVIATION IN ASIA-PACIFIC

Aviation Concepts Becomes The Only Business Jet Company in Asia
Capable of Full-Spectrum Support for Acquisition, Brokerage, Charter and Management.

Changi, SINGAPORE – Global trading company Sojitz Corp. (TYO 2768) is acquiring stock in Guam-based business jet company ACI Pacific, LLC , paving the way for them to join forces under the banner of Aviation Concepts to revolutionize business aviation in Asia-Pacific.

Aviation Concepts is a strategic marriage that couples the highly-credentialed, flight operational capabilities of U.S. Federal Aviation Administration-approved Aviation Concepts, Inc. and their sales and marketing administrative entity ACI Pacific, LLC with the financial prowess and sweeping Asian presence of Tokyo-based global trading and business/commercial aircraft company Sojitz Corporation.

Borderless, End-to-End Service & Support

The joining of these two forces is designed to produce a powerful alternative to the highly fragmented and insular Asian business jet industry, which is populated by close-bordered, outsourcing-dependent brokers and operators. Aviation Concepts introduces to Asia borderless, full-spectrum, end-to-end support for owners, buyers, sellers and charterers of business jets. With thirteen (13) offices across Asia, global operational reach and worldwide flight approval, Aviation Concepts is poised to super-serve not just a single country, but the entire region that stretches from Hawaii to Australia to China and India, and all of Southeast Asia.

As Aviation Concepts, the company offers integrated, comprehensive consultation and support for:

- Aircraft Sales, Charter, Acquisitions & Completions
- Aircraft Financing, Leasing & Business Analytics
- Aircraft Inspection, Certification & Registration
- Fleet Management
- Aircraft Maintenance & Ground Handling
- Flight Planning, Scheduling & Provisioning
- Emergency Air Medical Evacuation

A New Level of Sophistication for Asia

Commenting on this merging of core competencies, Terry Habeck, Aviation Concepts president and CEO says: "Today, over 85% of the world's aircraft sales happens in the United States, where ACI Pacific has deep access, experience and credentials. That's good news for Aviation Concepts' customers in Asia who are learning to demand the highest safety standards, full-service professionalism, and the most privileged access to new and pre-owned jets that become available for purchase.”

Advantages unique to Aviation Concepts include:

- A dynamic alliance with JetCraft, for up-to-the-minute sourcing of new and pre-owned aircraft in the world’s largest private aviation market, the United States.
- The highest United States Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) safety & security monitoring standards governing business flight today.
- Its own charter fleet along with access to multiple worldwide charter sources that comply with FAA-approved safety & security standards.
- Worldwide flight approval, including all oceans and polar areas.
- Sojitz’s deep and extensive literacy in Asian markets – important for navigating the highly localized and complex regulatory, legal and currency issues of business aviation.

A Category All Its Own

Sojitz has long dominated the commercial aircraft sales category in Japan. As the exclusive Japan distributor for Bombardier and Boeing commercial jetliners, Sojitz is responsible for 85% of all commercial aircraft sales in the country. Through Aviation Concepts, however, the company is expanding its aviation strength from pure sales and brokerage to full-service operations and consultation, catapulting it beyond its traditional competitive set.

Ken Kuribayashi, Sojitz’s Commercial Airplanes Department general manager, elaborates on how Sojitz’s joining

Aviation Concepts puts it in a category of its own: "Aviation Concepts is a strong example of how Sojitz is innovating and actively responding to environmental changes and market globalization. More and more, we are moving towards being a company that is not just sales-oriented, but also function-oriented, meaning that it is our mission to fully grasp and anticipate various client needs and provide sophisticated, tailor-made services as a client's business partner."

For personal interviews with ACI Pacific and Sojitz representatives who can tell you more about Aviation Concepts, attend the 2008 Singapore Air Show from February 19-24 at the newly built Changi Exhibition Centre.

About Sojitz

An integrated global trading company headquartered in Tokyo, Sojitz Corporation produces new sources of wealth by connecting the world's economies, cultures and people in the spirit of integrity. Sojitz Corporation is responsible for about $54 billion in annual trade transactions. It has 14,600 employees in 66 offices and 258 subsidiaries all around the world. Its Aerospace Unit business involves commercial aircraft, defense and space-related business. As part of these operations, Sojitz has worked closely with The Boeing Company in the sale of Boeing commercial airplanes for nearly half a century. Sojitz is also exclusive Japanese sales representative for Canada-based Bombardier Inc., which manufactures regional and business aircraft and currently enjoys a virtually unchallenged presence in its respective market in Japan.

About ACI Pacific, LLC and Aviation Concepts, Inc. (ACI)

ACI Pacific has been providing world-class aviation solutions for the business jet industry since 1996. The Company is headquartered in Guam and operates private hangars in Tiyan, Guam and Tokyo, Japan. Its highly-experienced team of aviation professionals has custom-fitted, managed and operated aircraft ranging from a Falcon 50/900, Gulfstream IV/V/550 and Challenger 604, to the Global Express and Boeing Business Jet. ACI operates business charter jets and air ambulance service with worldwide flight approval.

About Aviation Concepts, LLC

Once details of the stock acquisition are concluded, ACI Pacific, LLC will assume the new name of Aviation Concepts, LLC. For more information, call 1-671-477-0179 or visit www.aviationconcepts.aero.

###